Briefly describe your sense of God's call into mission and service in the Synod through this office:

As a chaplain, I like to serve in some way in the wider synod community. My call to ordained ministry and to many areas of service in my life came through campus ministry in college. I spent over 10 years in Youth and Family ministry roles and have helped students transition to college. I have 3 students in different types of college communities. I have enjoyed learning about this committee's ministry in my first term in this office and would enjoy being a part of this as new leadership are energizing this committee.

Describe your skills and experiences that would be an asset to this office:

With experience as a student, a parent, a minister and a chaplain, I can assist this committee in their key roles of budget and support for the essential task and people of campus ministry in this changing world.
